

Shared Governance Report
Armando Maldonado

The luncheon was very thriving, thanks to several people who made it happen the way it happened. These people that shall be recognized are: Food services, Dr. Heather Wylie, Dan Kinney, Justin Heidweiller, Kenneth King, Scott Breton and of course, our valiant leader, Jamie Spielmann. Lots of careful planning and organizing was done, such as the seating arrangement, keynote speakers for the luncheon, the food, and our lovely decorations. I'm hopeful that our Antiapity Awards Luncheon turns out to be superior than this past luncheon and that I am able to get more individuals to help out in enhancing this event. The awarding to Dr. Keith Brookshaw was exceptional and in turn, it was pleasant to witness Dr. Brookshaw in his emotional state of surprise. I'm hoping to be able to file the use of facilities for the Antiapithy Awards Luncheon by the end of next week, so I can unwind from this luncheon and steer my efforts towards the Spring Luncheon in early December.