

Wi-Fi Access For low Income Households

1. AT&T is offering unlimited internet data and internet access for limited income households at $10 a month through the Access from AT&T program.
<https://www.att.com/support/article/u-verse-high-speed-internet/KM1094463/>
2. California Connects Mobile Internet - California Community Colleges students are eligible for the California Connects Mobile Internet service. This new mobile hotspot service, powered by Sprint, offers nationwide 4G LTE connectivity and allows users to connect up to 10 WiFi-enabled devices for up to 10 hours on a single charge, with no contract required, for only $19.99 a month. <https://foundationccc.org/What-We-Do/Student-Success/California-Connects>
3. Emergency Broadband Benefits (EBB) Program - Students may be eligible to receive discounted or free high-speed internet through the Emergency Broadband Benefit (EBB) program. The EBB is a federal program that provides a discount of up to $50 per month towards internet service for eligible households and up to $75 per month for households on qualifying Tribal lands. Eligible households can also receive a one-time discount of up to $100 to purchase a laptop, desktop computer, or tablet from participating providers if they contribute more than $10 and less than $50 toward the purchase price.
<https://www.fcc.gov/broadbandbenefit>
4. National Digital Inclusion Alliance - The National Digital Inclusion Alliance (NDIA) has compiled a list of current offers from ISPs that will help low-income households to acquire service at low or no cost. Most have eligibility limitations linked to income or program enrollment. The list also includes established, nationally available low-cost plans offered by nonprofit organizations. All offers are less than $20/month total cost (with no installation fees). <https://www.digitalinclusion.org/free-low-cost-internet-plans/>
5. United Ways of California Low-Cost Internet - See if you qualify for low-cost internet through the United Ways of California by entering your zip code.
<https://broadband.unitedwaysca.org/>