

Shasta College

Partners in Access to College Education

Music During Testing as an Accommodation

This accommodation is for students who have a disability impediment that impacts the student's ability to optimally concentrate while taking exams.

This accommodation is only used when a student is taking exams in the Testing Center on campus or while at home in online class.

It may be difficult to discern if student is misusing this while at home.

Music is required to be instrumental music, ambient sounds, or white noise machine (at home) only.

Music should not be disturbing to any other students in Testing Center.

Device playing music should not be able to connect to WiFi.